

Job Description – Automotive Upholstery Technician

Summary Statement

The Automotive Upholstery Technician creates and installs automotive interior components using the highest quality materials and proper tools and procedures.

Description

The Automotive Upholstery Technician creates a premium interior environment by assembling and installing the highest quality interior components that are designed both for outstanding appearance and functionality.

Duties and Tasks Performed Critical to Success

The Automotive Upholstery Technician must be highly proficient in automotive upholstery. He/she will be responsible for cutting, sewing, and fitment of leather seat upholstery, wrapping interior trim panels in leather and vinyl, fitment of interior trim, hand fitting carpet, installing convertible tops, and working with fiberglass and seat foam. The Automotive Upholstery Technician must be capable of consistently producing high quality work following a set of established specifications. The Automotive Upholstery Technician will also assess, propose, and implement improvements to vehicle design and manufacturing methods and processes.

Key Functional and Relational Responsibilities

- Creation and installation of leather upholstery and interior trim
- Installation of seats, dash, door panels, trim panels
- Installation of convertible tops
- Assist in developing engineering designs and implement engineering changes

Relationships and Roles within the Company

The Automotive Upholstery Technician will report directly to the Assembly supervisor and will also work closely with the engineering and manufacturing teams.

Qualifications

The candidate will have 2-5 years' experience as an Automotive Upholstery Technician, preferably automotive, with an emphasis on premium and/or luxury vehicle upholstery.

Company Description

Revology Cars manufactures and distributes a lineup of new reproduction 1960s Ford Mustangs and Shelby GTs featuring modern powertrains, suspension, brakes, safety, and comfort/convenience features. Launched in 2014 by a former Ford Motor Company executive, Revology has secured financial backing from a prominent private equity group. The company is an authorized licensee of Ford Motor Company and Shelby American.

Compensation

Compensation will consist of a competitive hourly wage and an annual performance bonus, based on achievement of objectives. The company provides a health, dental, and vision benefits plan to all full-time employees.